

Supporting Your Young Adult through Their Postsecondary Transition

New Story Schools' Transition Program is an alternative high school program in Independence, Ohio, that provides educational and behavioral programming with a focus on post-secondary transition. The program supports the needs of young adults up to 22 years old with autism spectrum disorder, intellectual and developmental disabilities, and behavioral health diagnosis.

Students enrolled in New Story Schools' Transition Program can expect to:

- Receive individualized and tailored support in small group settings aligned with their Individual Education Plan (IEP) goals.
- Gain employability, social, and daily living skills with a specific focus on independent living and workplace readiness through simulated environments, opportunities for repeated practice, and robust vocational assessment tools.
- Experience support from a highly qualified and passionate team composed of a behavior technician, registered behavioral technician, intervention specialist, and Board Certified Behavior Analyst (BCBA).

Reviews

"I am so happy with the results of [my young adult's] time in the transitions program. I wish I would have enrolled him sooner. Everyone who worked with him helped him so much, he really was ready for this transition!"

- ABS Annex Parent

"Their educators and staff have specialized training and unshakable dedication. It was not an easy road to get us here, but we know we are in the right place and are so grateful for the skilled and talented staff and educators we have found here."
